4:28 PM Andrew: nice 4:30 PM me: he's asked me to write a short announcement/recruitment message for his facebook page in order to get the attention of his various other influential friends writing that now, will have it on his page later today, I believe Andrew: wow
4:31 PM me: very soon we'll have the participation of people with huge influence and resources as well as talent 4:32 PM just keep all this in mind
4:33 PM we're about to have a power center that, even in terms of soft power, will be competitive with actual countries insomuch as that we'll be more trusted and it's designed to grow, a lot Andrew: im impressed with the manpower can you organize a master list?
me: yes, doing so Andrew: lets refer to it as schindlers list 4:34 PM me: have a separate list of non-blogger recruits will prepare another list of people whom we'll be organizing into the legislative network that will help to govern everything 4:35 PM we'll also be incorporating or at least collaborating with various organizations soon have to decide the specifics on the actual manner of that 4:36 PM may possibly integrate them in by having them act in the same way as an individual would as a member of the legislative network not sure yet
I'll have to write a constitution soon 4:38 PM at any rate, we're transitioning into an alternative to existing world institutions much quicker than I expected
